

Deputy Political Director

End Citizens United's Mission: To combat Big Money in politics and dismantle our rigged political system by electing campaign finance reform champions and passing state ballot measures. These champions will work toward overturning Citizens United, ending unlimited money in politics, and ending Dark Money. We'll work towards the mission by: electing pro-reform candidates, raising the issue of money in politics as a national priority, and using grassroots membership to demonstrate political power on the issue of money in politics.

Reports to: Political Director

Job Summary: The Deputy Political Director is an integral part of the political department and is responsible for helping to create, lead, and direct political efforts for End Citizens United. S/he will work with ECU's Political Director to monitor and track key races, maintain relationships, and manage polling and advocacy projects.

Primary Responsibilities:

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Working with Political Director to oversee and maintain ECU's relationships with candidates, campaigns, party committees, and partner organizations
- Tracking ECU's priority campaigns
- Making recommendations on candidate endorsements
- Closely monitoring U.S. Senate and House political landscape for opportunities for ECU engagement
- Helping manage ECU's polling projects
- Helping manage ECU's advocacy program, including working with partners and identifying opportunities where ECU can engage
- Perform additional duties as assigned.

Qualifications

The Deputy Political Director must be a self-starter with two to three cycles of political experience. Federal campaign experience is highly desired. The Deputy Political Director must have a strong interest in stopping big money in politics and helping elect campaign finance reform champions to Congress, possess excellent communication skills, good attention to detail, the ability to think on one's feet, and a sense of humor. The Deputy Political Director must be willing to travel extensively and committed to the diversity of our candidates, membership, partners, and staff.

End Citizens United offers a competitive salary and benefits package. To apply, email resume and cover letter to jobs@endcitizensunited.org, -- subject line "Deputy Political Director." No calls, please.

End Citizens United is an Equal Opportunity Employer that values a multi-cultural, diverse working environment. Applicants of diverse backgrounds are welcomed and encouraged to apply.