WYNN CALLED OUT HELLER AT A TRUMP FUNDRAISER TO SUPPORT THE GOP HEALTHCARE EFFORTS

June 28, 2017: Heller Attended A $35K-Per-Plate Trump Fundraiser At Trump's D.C. Hotel That Was Also Attended By Steve Wynn. "First-time candidate Donald Trump got a late start on fundraising in 2016, holding his first big-ticket donor event only five months before Election Day. That won't be the case next time. Some 40 months ahead his next election, the president held court at a $35,000-per-plate donor event Wednesday night at his hotel in Washington, just a few blocks down Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House. About 300 people attended the event, which pulled in about $10 million, said Lindsay Jancek, a spokeswoman for the Republican National Committee. Among those present were major party financiers, including Las Vegas casino mogul Steve Wynn. One attendee stood out: Nevada Sen. Dean Heller, part of a small group of Republicans whose objections just a day earlier had doomed - at least for now - the Senate's effort to repeal and replace President Barack Obama's health care law. Trump did not single out Heller, but Wynn, the lead fundraiser for the Republican National Committee, gently jabbed him by urging all Republicans to come together to support the president's agenda." AFTER THE PRESSURE FROM HIS MEGADONORS, HELLER VOTED TO OPEN DEBATE ON GOP HEALTHCARE BILL AND VOTED IN FAVOR OF THE GOP "SKINNY" ACA REPEAL

Heller Voted To Open Debate On GOP Healthcare Bill. In July 2017, Heller voted for "McConnell, R-Ky., motion to proceed to the bill that would make extensive changes to the 2010 health care overhaul law, by effectively repealing the individual and employer mandates as well as most of the taxes that finance the current system and by making extensive changes to Medicaid.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 50-50. CQ, [7/25/17; H.R.1628, Vote 167, 7/25/17]

Heller Voted For “Skinny” Repeal To Repeal The Affordable Care Act. In July 2017, Heller voted for “McConnell, R-Ky., amendment no. 667, to the McConnell substitute amendment no. 267, that would repeal the individual mandate, repeal the employer mandate through 2024, delay the implementation of the medical device tax through 2020, and block, for one year, federal funding from going to certain medical providers that provide abortions. The amendment would ease the waiver process for states to opt out of the requirement that their health insurance providers include certain benefits on their health care plans. Additionally, the amendment would increase the maximum allowable contribution to health savings accounts and would defund the Prevention and Public Health Fund starting in 2019.” The amendment failed 49-51. Sheldon Adelson Headlined A Heller Fundraiser On 3/28/11. "Heller 'said he plans aggressive fundraising... shooting to bring in between' $12M and $15M. Businessman Sheldon Adelson's among those headlining' a 3/28 fundraiser." [National Journal, Hotline, 3/16/11]

- Heller Raised $125K From The Adelson-Hosted Fundraiser At Panevino Ristorante, With Each Of The 75 People In Attendance Paying At Least $1K. "Rep. Dean Heller(R-02) raised $125K 3/28 'at a Las Vegas event organized by top GOP players. Some 75 people attended the dinner at Panevino Ristorante, paying at least' $1K each. The funds 'came in just days be-fore' the 3/31 'end of a fundraising quarter and as Heller put out an email plea to donors.' In the email, Heller 'said people will be watching 'like hawks' to see how much money he has raised as a test of his strength as a candidate.' Businessman Sheldon Adelson hosted the fundraiser for Heller along with RNC cmte member/ex-Gov. Bob Listand the late Gov. Kenny Guinn's (R) widow Dema Guinn(3/28)." [National Journal, Hotline, 3/29/11]

Heller Celebrated The Results Of The 2012 Election At Adelson's Venetian. "Now, not for nothing, but according to the OpenSecrets.org website, the No. 1 donor to Heller's campaign 2011 through 2014 was none other than ... wait for it, wait for it ... Adelson's Las Vegas Sands! (In fairness, the $48,750 attributable to Sands is less that 1 percent of Heller's overall take during that period of $10.2 mil-lion.) Also, Heller (along with many others in the Nevada GOP) celebrated the results of the 2012 election at ... The Venetian!" [Las Vegas Review-Journal, Steve Sebelius, 4/28/15]

Shortly After The 2012 Election, Heller Had A “Courtesy Call” From Adelson. “Sen. Dean Heller (R-NV) ‘also had a ‘courtesy call’ from Adelson.’ The Adelsons’ ‘total reported donations’ came to $90M for the cycle. They gave $150M ‘in all, including unreported money.’ Restore Our Future founder Charles Spies said ‘that his overhead was 5 percent.’” [National Journal, The Hotline, 12/10/12]

HELLER WAS PRESSURED BY ADELSON AND WYNN AFTER HIS INITIAL OPPOSITION TO GOP ACA REPEAL AND REPLACE BILLS

ADELSON AND WYNN EACH CONTACTED HELLER AT THE REQUEST OF THE WHITE HOUSE TO COMPLAIN ABOUT HIS OPPOSITION TO THE GOP HEALTHCARE EFFORTS

New York Times: “Mr. Adelson And Mr. Wynn [...] Each Contacted Mr. Heller At The Request Of The White House Last Week To Complain About His Opposition To The Republican-Written Health Overhaul.” “Mr. Adelson and Mr. Wynn, two of Las Vegas's leading gambling titans, each contacted Mr. Heller at the request of the White House last week to complain about his opposition to the Republican-written health overhaul, according to multiple Republican officials. One ally of Mr. Heller's acknowledged that Mr. Adelson and Mr. Wynn were unhappy with the senator at the moment and that their relationship needed some repair work.” [New York Times, 7/1/17]

WYNN CALLED OUT HELLER AT A TRUMP FUNDRAISER TO SUPPORT THE GOP HEALTHCARE EFFORTS

June 28, 2017: Heller Attended A $35K-Per-Plate Trump Fundraiser At Trump's D.C. Hotel That Was Also Attended By Steve Wynn. "First-time candidate Donald Trump got a late start on fundraising in 2016, holding his first big-ticket donor event only five months before Election Day. That won't be the case next time. Some 40 months ahead his next election, the president held court at a $35,000-per-plate donor event Wednesday night at his hotel in Washington, just a few blocks down Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House. About 300 people attended the event, which pulled in about $10 million, said Lindsay Jancek, a spokeswoman for the Republican National Committee. Among those present were major party financiers, including Las Vegas casino mogul Steve Wynn. One attendee stood out: Nevada Sen. Dean Heller, part of a small group of Republicans whose objections just a day earlier had doomed - at least for now - the Senate's effort to repeal and replace President Barack Obama's health care law. Trump did not single out Heller, but Wynn, the lead fundraiser for the Republican National Committee, gently jabbed him by urging all Republicans to come together to support the president's agenda." MCCONNELL ANNOUNCED REPEALING THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT WOULD BE THE FIRST ORDER OF BUSINESS FOR THE NEW CONGRESS IN 2017

McConnell Announced Repealing The Affordable Care Act Would Be The First Order Of Business For The New Congress In 2017. “Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-Ky.) says legislation repealing the Affordable Care Act will be the first order of business in the new Congress. McConnell announced the agenda Tuesday, after meeting with Vice President-elect Mike Pence and Senate GOP colleagues over lunch. ‘When we come back Jan. 3 we’ll be moving to the ObamaCare replacement resolution, the ObamaCare repeal resolution will be the first item up in the New Year,’ McConnell said, referring to repeal legislation that is expected to pass with a simple majority vote under special budgetary rules.” The Hill, [12/6/17]

MCCONNELL-LINKED SUPER PAC SAID IT WOULD SPEND SEVEN FIGURES IN SUPPORT OF HELLER IN 2018

McConnell-Linked Super PAC Senate Leadership Fund Said It Would Spend Seven Figures To Defend Heller, Saying It Expected To Be His “Biggest Independent Supporter.” “Fresh off Sen. Dean Heller’s vote for the so-called skinny Obamacare repeal, a SuperPAC linked to Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell says it will spend seven figures to defend him — including fending off any primary challenge. ‘We were Senator Heller’s biggest independent supporter in 2012 and we expect to be in 2018,’ said Steven Law, McConnell’s former chief of staff who now oversees the Senate Leadership Fund. ‘In general, senators casting tough votes have to be concerned about downstream political consequences. We will have their backs.’” Nevada Independent, [8/3/17]

HELLER INITIALLY SAID HE WOULD NOT SUPPORT GOP HEALTHCARE BILL, THEN VOTED FOR “SKINNY” REPEAL BILL

In June 2017, Heller Said He Would Not Support The GOP Healthcare Bill, Saying “It’s All About Medicaid Expansion.” “Dean Heller of Nevada, one of the most politically vulnerable Republican senators facing re-election in 2018, announced on Friday that he will not support the Senate GOP healthcare bill in its current form. [...] While the the four conservative senators who have announced opposition appear to be disappointed that the legislation does not go far enough to repeal former President Obama’s signature healthcare law, Heller’s chief concern appears to be that the bill would go too far in cutting Medicaid. ‘At the end of the day, it’s all about Medicaid expansion, and making sure that somehow, somehow we make sure that these individuals who now have this health insurance will continue to have health insurance,’ Heller said. ‘You have to protect Medicaid expansion states. That’s what I want,’ he added. ‘It’s going to be very difficult to get me to a ‘yes,’” Heller noted.” The Atlantic, [6/23/17]

Jacky Rosen (D-Nev.), who is running against Heller, said in an interview. She and other Democrats say his vote for skinny repeal was a step away from the opposition to repeal promised during a high-profile June press conference with popular Nevada Gov. Brian Sandoval (R), who opposed the skinny bill. At the press conference, Heller said that he would not support legislation ‘that takes insurance away from tens of millions of Americans and hundreds of thousands of Nevadans.’” The Hill, [8/27/17]

HELLER INITIALLY SAID HE WOULD NOT SUPPORT GOP HEALTHCARE BILL, THEN VOTED FOR “SKINNY” REPEAL BILL

In June 2017, Heller Said He Would Not Support The GOP Healthcare Bill, Saying “It’s All About Medicaid Expansion.” “Dean Heller of Nevada, one of the most politically vulnerable Republican senators facing re-election in 2018, announced on Friday that he will not support the Senate GOP healthcare bill in its current form. [...] While the the four conservative senators who have announced opposition appear to be disappointed that the legislation does not go far enough to repeal former President Obama’s signature healthcare law, Heller’s chief concern appears to be that the bill would go too far in cutting Medicaid. ‘At the end of the day, it’s all about Medicaid expansion, and making sure that somehow, someway we make sure that these individuals who now have this health insurance will continue to have health insurance,’ Heller said. ‘You have to protect Medicaid expansion states. That’s what I want,’ he added. ‘It’s going to be very difficult to get me to a ‘yes,’” Heller noted.” The Atlantic, [6/23/17]

In July 2017, Heller Voted For “Skinny” Repeal To Repeal The Affordable Care Act. In July 2017, Heller voted for “McConnell, R-Ky., amendment no. 667, to the McConnell substitute amendment no. 267, that would repeal the individual mandate, repeal the employer mandate through 2024, delay the implementation of the medical device tax through 2020, and block, for one year, federal funding from going to certain medical providers that provide abortions. The amendment would ease the waiver process for states to opt out of the requirement that their health insurance providers include certain benefits on their health care plans. Additionally, the amendment would increase the maximum allowable contribution to health savings accounts and would defund the Prevention and Public Health Fund starting in 2019.” The amendment failed 49-51. - The “Skinny” Repeal Amendment, Called The Health Care Freedom Act, Would Have Repealed The Mandates That Most Individuals Need Health Insurance And That Large Employers Cover Their Employees. “The Senate rejected a third Republican proposal to repeal the Affordable Care Act early Friday morning. The ‘skinny’ repeal amendment, called the Health Care Freedom Act, would have repealed the mandates that most individuals have health insurance and that large employers cover their employees, among other provisions.” New York Times, [7/28/17]

- Heller’s Opponent Accused Him Of Betraying The State And His Promise To Oppose Legislation That Would Take Insurance Away From Nevadans. “Sen. Dean Heller is trying to walk a fine line on ObamaCare ahead of his tough reelection race next year. [...] ‘I believe that people feel Dean Heller has betrayed them in the state,’ Rep. Jacky Rosen (D-Nev.), who is running against Heller, said in an interview. She and other Democrats say his vote for skinny repeal was a step away from the opposition to repeal promised during a high-profile June press conference with popular Nevada Gov. Brian Sandoval (R), who opposed the skinny bill. At the press conference, Heller said that he would not support legislation ‘that takes insurance away from tens of millions of Americans and hundreds of thousands of Nevadans.’” The Hill, [8/27/17]
