ABOUT END CITIZENS UNITED PAC

End Citizens United PAC (ECU) is dedicated to ending the tidal wave of unlimited and undisclosed money that has reshaped our politics and damaged our democracy.

ECU is a community of more than 3 million Americans dedicated to reforming our nation's broken campaign finance system and ending Citizens United. Our supporters are active and engaged in the political process as a progressive grassroots community dedicated to electing campaign finance reform champions.

Our strength comes from the power of many individuals standing together to call for change. We're proud to be supported by more than 300,000 donors across America who helped create a groundbreaking model that proved there's a way for the grassroots to compete with corporate special interests and billionaires.

ABOUT THIS SURVEY

ECU will use this questionnaire and past votes, statements and actions on campaign finance issues to guide our process for selecting candidates to endorse.

ECU takes a full and comprehensive approach to rectifying the severe consequences the Citizens United decision has had on our elections. There are many avenues to fixing our broken campaign finance system: Enacting a constitutional amendment to overturn the Citizens United decision, confirming federal judges and Supreme Court Justices who believe political donations do not equate to political free speech, and supporting legislation that will bring full disclosure of and limits to the money flowing into our elections.

Kindly return your completed questionnaire by sending an electronic copy to Jordan Wood at Jordan@endcitizensunited.org. Your answers to this questionnaire as well as any endorsements made by End Citizens United PAC will be released to the public.

In addition to the specific measures contained in the different legislation listed on this questionnaire, it is my goal to improve access to voting for everyone who is willing and able to cast a vote. The unfortunate reality of modern electoral politics is that too many people have become disillusioned with our current democratic processes. Voters must have faith in the institution itself if we're going to ask, and expect them to participate.

If the majority of potential voters don't believe that their vote matters, then what motivates them to take the time out of their otherwise busy schedules to vote? If we secure our voting systems and ensure that the process is both auditable and regularly audited, then we can ensure that all votes are counted and accounted for. This, along with the specific measures needed to remove dark, unidentified money from the process, will instill a sense of voter confidence, and we can finally start to have real, honest conversations during elections.

The more people vote, the greater their collective voice and the more likely they are to keep their representatives accountable to the voters, not donors. This is how we begin to regain voter trust and confidence in our politicians and in the political process once again. We have a lot of work to do to regain the public's trust -- and these ideas are a good start.
